BALLOTING BY AID OF POLICE

Guardians of the Law Snrrounding the State House.

HANNA IS ELECTED SENATOR.

The Change of a Single Weak-Kneed Representative Has Settled the Contest.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Touble is feared when the balloting for Senator begins here today. The extra policemen sworn in yesterday have been retained and are still on duty. Crowds of them are scattered around the capitol building armed and ready to suppress any riot that may occur.

Senator Hanna's friends are swarming in the in the streets and threatening vengeance against Major McKisson and the anti-Hanna candidate.

The contest is so exceedingly close that one weak-kneed member on either side can change the result. The leaders of both sides are hustling up to the last minute and bribery charges add to the excitement.

STATE HOUSE CROWDED.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—The State house is crowded. All the noisy element gained admission. No tickets were needed. Hanna's supporters express no fear of a dramatic performance. The report that representative Otis, of Cincinnati, will make a sensational statement on the floor of the house has been denied.

Those actively engaged in the senatorial contest were up all night and agreed to vote at two o'clock this afternoon.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT.

One of The Needs of a Growing City Like Greensboro.

The fact that Greensboro has made rapid strides in the way of population within the last year is apparent to all. It is gratifying to note other evidences of the city's growth. The possibilities of Greensboro are recognized by thinking people.

There are, however many very important things to be considered, formulated and acted upon by the people of Greensboro, before we can take the position we believe the city is destined and entitled to take. We must have more manufacturing enterprises. This is one very important subject, one that should constantly engage the minds of people who desire a solid growth for the city.

But what The Telegram has particularly in mind today is a city park. And now is the time to make a move in that direction. A park with beautiful shade, lakes, drives and walks in any city, or in close proximity thereto, is one of the very first things to attract the attention and elicit the admiration of visitors and strangers.

We often hear strangers ask, "Where is the park?" They take it as a matter of fact that there is a park. And there should be one. Now, the question is: Can we not have one? And where shall it be located?

Let us venture a suggestion. The Telegram man's eye may be untrained but he thinks he has in mind a site that could be easily converted into a magnificent park. And he has reason to believe that a liberal donation could be secured from the owner of the property.

The place in mind is the plot of ground surrounding the lake from which the city water supply is furnished. Naturally, it is a beautiful place. The lake is plenty large for small boats, and if the Water company will stock this lake with fish and grant the privilege of putting boats thereon, sufficient ground around the lake can be secured for the asking to make a beautiful park.

A drive way with easy grade can be made around the lake near the water and three-fourths around it on top of the ridge.

It is proper to state here that this is not the lake from which the drinking water supply is derived. The drinking supply comes from an adjacent pond cut off from the larger lake and surrounded by a cement wall.

Objection may be raised to the distance and accessibility of the location suggested. But by grading the cemetery hill it is easily within five to ten minutes drive and can be reached by two excellent routes. One is out by Greene Hill cemetery and the other is out West Market to G. F. College hill and turning to the right, going on the west side of "The Cedars," the new and elegant home of Mr. Branch Merrimon. It is a pretty drive either way, and together with the beautiful place which could be made around the lake, would add no little to the attractions of Greensboro.

Let those who desire to see a park in Greensboro visit the place named and express their opinion about it. The columns of The Telegram are open for a discussion of the matter.

A Relic to be Returned.

Col. E. A. Osborne, of Charlotte, has written Adjutant General Stephen D. Ayling, of New Hampshire, in regard to the return of the flag of the Fourth North Carolina Regiment, which, it appears, was captured at Chancellorsville. Col. Osborne says in his letter that he desires the flag "in order to obtain this interesting relic for the pleasure and satisfaction of that once splendid regiment." Adjutant General Ayling in reply to Col. Osborne says Mrs. Persis F. Chase, who in winter closes her home and travels, has left the matter of returning the flag entirely in his hands and that he will be happy to return it to Col. Osborne upon statement by Adjutant General Cowles that Col. Osborne is authorized to receive the flag. The Adjutant General gives the authorization.—Charlotte Observer.

Senatorial Timber.

The statement was made yesterday that Governor Russell would, in the event of Senator Pritchard's resignation to succeed Judge Dick on the Federal bench, appoint Justice Walter Clark. The governor, it is said, deems Justice Clark the most desirable piece of senatorial timber in the state, excluding himself.—Raleigh Post.

Commissioner Greely's Bill Will Make it Uncomfortable for Patent Attorneys and Agents.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Havana, Jan. 11—Senor Caprilles, the former autonomous governor of Santiago de Cuba and who was to have sailed yesterday for Spain postponed his departure at the last moment. Later today it became known that a committee from Santiago requested Blanco to appoint Caprilles governor of that province and the request was granted. Six hundred sick and invalid soldiers embarked for Spain today.

MRS. NACK'S LATEST.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Nack is in a different mood today. She is insulting all who come near her, screaming like a baby and making all kinds of threats. She feels now as if she can act as she pleases. She says people have done her all the harm they can and that her good behavior does not begin until she is in Auburn prison.

AFTER PATENT ATTORNEYS.

Washington, D.C. Jan. 11—Assistant Commissioner Greely of the patent office has prepared the draft of a bill which will be introduced in congress governing the recognition of agents, attorneys and other persons representing applicants for patents before the patent office. It gives authority to the commissioner to require persons dersiring practice to show they are of good reputation and are possessed of the requisite qualifications to enable them to render applicants valuable service.

NEW CONNECTION.

From Points on the C. F. & Y. V. to Carthage.

An arrangement has been made between the Durham and Charlotte railroad and the Carthage and Western railroad, whereby a through train schedule will be put into operation between Gulf, N. C., and Carthage, N. C., which will be a great saving in time to the traveling public.

This schedule will be put into effect Monday, January 31, 1898 and will be as follows:

Leave Gulf at 2:20 p. m. and arrive at Carthage at 4:10 a. m. Returning, leave Carthage at 11:15 p. m. and arrive at Gulf at 1:35 p. m.

These trains connect at Gulf with C. F. and Y. V. trains Nos. 1 and 2. By the above arrangement passengers from any point on the C. F. and Y. V. railway, who wish to go to Carthage, will save three hours, and also save over three hours on the return trip by traveling this route.

Colonel Picquart continued his testimony and it is reported that there was great excitement in court when Picquart was confronted with General Gonz, the subchief of the general staff. It is also alleged that Picquart made revelations of exceptional gravity. A verdict is expected tonight.

STOPPED UNCLE SAM'S MAIL.

Postal Bags Stranded and the Stage Horses Seized.

Los Angeles, Jan. 9—Near Twenty-nine Palms, in the heart of the Colorado desert, is a man whose novel way of collecting a debt has brought him into conflict with Uncle Sam's mails.

The man has been working for a stage company which runs mail coaches between Twenty-Nine Palms and some desert mining camp. The company was slow in paying, so when the stage left, a few days ago, he was at a convenient place with a shotgun and ordered the driver to stop.

The passengers at first thought it was a case of stage robbery, but the man said they could go their way. He did not molest the treasure box or mail pouches. He simply said he wanted his pay and intended to take the stage horses as security. So he unharnessed the animals and drove them to his corral, and has been caring for them ever since.

The mail and coach are still standing on the desert, but it is expected the horses will be restored in a day or so, as Deputy United States Marshal Pourade has gone to the scene.

The man who committed this offence has a ranch and stock, but was evidently unaware of his crime in interfering with the delivery of the mails.

A Streak of Sunshine.

The anonymous letter writer is a pupil of the serpent who entered the Garden and whispered poisoned words into the ears of our first mother. He sneaked around the garden, hiding his slimy coils in the beautiful foliage of that, till then, perfect creation, and waited his opportunity to falsify the words of the Creator to the innocent and confiding Eve. And so the writer of anonymous letters sneaks behind the disguise of changed chirography and sails under the false name of an "unknown." Cowardly assassin that he is, he tries to wound the feelings of others, to stab the reputation of better than he is, to make trouble between friends and to cause sorrow and mortification. His language smacks of the place where the devil holds training school for such characters, and would becloud even the sun itself. If he succeeds in wounding he has a diabolic laugh and gloats over the pain he has caused, as the vulture toys with its prey. Nothing in this world is so despicable, nothing that so much deserves the bitterest condemnation.—Durham Sun.

King Humbert, of Italy, has been named as co-respondent in a divorce case. It is plain that the world is being rapidly Americanized.

Judging by the the terms offered to the management the Prince of Monaco is destined to be the man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo.

Mr. Hanna must have regarded with some envy the safe and sound contract yesterday sealed between Governor Bushnell and the people of Ohio.

The importation of some of Dr. Sanarelli's yellow fever germs would seem, in view of the record of New Orleans, to be carrying coals to New Castle with a vengeance.

A returned missionary has been delivering a lecture on "The Needs of Japan." The missionary probably knows most about it but from the lay point of view one of Japan's most urgent needs is a thorough and systematic thrashing.

The record of the present administration and its appointees not only shows that the sins of people have a way of finding them out but that the gentlemen must have come into power with an unusually large number of outstanding obligations of that sort.

The senate is considering Hawaiian annexation behind closed doors. That is not strange. But it is strange that Senator Morgan should have favored a secret session when he had several furlongs of speech liberally besprigged with eagle feathers to unroll before the galleries.

Philadelphia has a new order just organized called the "Barons of Runnymede," composed exclusively of descendents of those who fought for the concessions of Magna Charta. It is not stated whether the descendents of those who ran on that memorable occasion are eligible or not.

There are good reasons for believing that the Spaniards in Cuba are becoming over-human and effeminate. General Blanco has just issued an order that hereafter the murder of women and children is to be restricted. Men too old and feeble to fight are also to be shot only under special provocation, as when a few corpses are needed as a basis for a victorious dispatch. How Weyler must rage when he hears of all this mistaken humanity. He could not relish his breakfast until he had had spitted a few prisoners.

Is it necessary to suggest to certain esteemed contemporaries that they may easily overestimate the desire of democrats to read them out of the party? Pray leave the discovery of conspiracies to Mr. Marion Butler and men of his ilk. We feel sure that the aid of every man and every paper that wishes to honestly co-operate with the democratic party in redeeming the State from the vagaries, the incompetency and the growing indecency of those now in power will be welcomed by all true democrats. That should suffice.

Scarlet dress coats have been adopted by English golfers and New York drawing rooms are likely to suffer from inflammation.

The grave announcement of Senator Chandler that President McKinley favors international bi-metalism shows the New Hampshire statesman a little short on his perceptions of the humorous.

The predicament of Hancock, Governor Russell's president of the A. & N. C. railway shows that His Excellency's favorites not only understand railroading but are versatile in many ways.

In a two column and a half article in yesterday's New York Sun, J. De Armas accuses James Gordon Bennett of having sold the columns and influence of the Herald to Spain on November the twenty-first. He gives the discontinuance of the Telegram, the Herald's evening edition, on the twentieth and the resumption on the twenty-second as evidence. Not satisfied with this charge which is salty enough he alleges that the Herald receives $100,000 a year from the Monte Carlo management. The charges are plain and specific and the answer of the Herald should make good reading.

The German warships will be recalled. Kiao Chou will be evacuated and the Chinese can sleep in peace once more. France can reclaim Alsace-Lorraine without opposition and newspapers will no longer poke fun at Emperor William's pants. Some enemy of the "Vaterlandt" has dropped the query "If two streets intersect in which street is the intersection?" The glories of conquest will cease to allure while Heidelberg bombards Berlin and Gottingen seeks for the solor plexus of Halle. From Bremen to Bingen on the Rhine the question will be mooted while the price of paper bulls itself and printing presses run on extra time. The fatherland will be as full of monograms as the back of a terrapin that has gone up against a picnic party.

THE HAIR OF THE DOG.

The Story of a Conundrum Asked by Bishop Wilmer.

Here is a story an Alabama man tells of Bishop Wilmer. It happened soon after the war. Bishop Wilmer had gone to a Northern city to ask aid for a Confederate orphans' home in which he was interested. There was a dinner in his honor, and after dinner the Bishop said he hadn't a story.

"But," he added, "I've got a conundrum. Why are we Southerners like Lazarus?"

The guests—they were all Union men, by the way—suggested many answers. The Southerners were like Lazarus because they were poor, because they ate of the crumbs from the rich man's table, because of everything anybody could guess.

"No," said the Bishop, "you're all wrong. We're like Lazarus because"—and he smiled blandly—"because we've been licked by dogs."

A roar of laughter went round at that, for the Bishop's utter unreconstructedness was always one of his charms. Everybody laughed but one mottled-faced man, who became very indignant.

"Well," he snorted, "if you think we're dogs, why in—not earth—have you come up here to beg for our money—for the money of dogs?"

The Bishop chuckled.

"My mottled friend," said he, "the hair of the dog is good for the bite. That's why I've come."—Washington Post.

Mrs. Nack Gets Fifteen Years.

New York, Jan. 10—Mrs. Augusta Nack, jointly charged with Martin Thorn with the murder of William Guldensuppe, a bath rubber, at Wood side, L. I., in June of last year, was today sentenced to fifteen years in the state prison at Auburn. The good time allowance attainable would reduce the term of ten years and five months.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discouery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with la grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at C. E. Holton's drug store.

PAYING THE PENSIONERS.

Suggestion Made That Postal Money Orders Be Used.

In reply to an inquiry from Representative Tongue of Oregon the Post Office Department holds that for various reasons postmasters could not be required to cash pension checks. The suggestion is made that pension agents might obtain money orders for pensioners in their districts, payable at the office at which they reside, thus saving them the trouble of having their checks cashed at a bank or by other persons. Should this be done the work of paying the money orders would fall largely on postmasters at third and fourth-class offices, which would make them extra work and entail additional responsibilities without increased compensation.—Washington Star.

OLD MAN AND YOUNG WIFE.

A Washington John Who Sees All Sorts. Weary of the Jay With a Bride.

"But of all married couples the old jay with the young wife makes me most tired. The old duffer tries to put on a dignified air when many people are around, but wait until he gets a chance to smile at his young bride. It's awful. The smile is that of a possum which has been treed and knows there is no escape. I mean that it's sickly. Half of them may be putting on with the innocent girl. Three days ago I had one of these old jays in tow. What do you suppose he said to his wife? I was taking them from the White House to the treasury and passed by the fountain which contains so many pretty goldfish. 'Oh, look at the beautiful little things,' he said, with a grin at his wife. 'You are prettier than any fish in that pond.' She said, 'Oh!' Well, I wanted to throw him in, but of course I was looking out for the coin.

"Here comes a newly married couple. Anybody could tell that. You see, he has his wife by the arm and is looking down into her face with an air of contentment that is enough to make my blues leave me to see. I noticed that couple coming up Pennsylvania avenue 20 minutes ago. He was holding her arm then. He will stick to the job until they reach their hotel this afternoon. He is not afraid she will escape, but he thinks that is part of a new groom's business. You see, he helps her up the steps and points out things to her. He tells her that is so and so. Nine chances out of ten it is something else. He feels that he is bound to say something. I have seen many of these young know alls point out the Corcoran Art gallery as the patent office and pass the state, war and navy building off as the residence of General Miles or as the new city postoffice. The innocent bride stares in wonder and thinks it's so. She believes her darling Henry knows all about it.

"It's very different with the man who has been married several years. He and his wife see for themselves. He stops and looks at a thing which interests him. She goes on and stops to look at something which interests her. They are generally 20 yards apart. If he tells her that a building is such and such, she disputes the point and thinks it's something else."—Washington Star.

IODINE ON FINGERS.

Treatment of the Hands of Pianoforte Pupils Who Practice.

A modest appearing young woman entered a drug store on Madison avenue one morning recently, and, walking to the end of the counter nearest the prescription department, mutely held out both hands toward a clerk who chanced to be standing in that particular place. The clerk, equally mute, reached behind a screen and brought out a blue glass bottle, from which a brush handle protruded. After stirring the contents of the bottle with the brush for a few seconds the clerk daintily brushed the tips of the young woman's fingers with the mixture, leaving a dark stain around the top of each finger nail. With a pleasant nod of her head and low murmuring thanks the young woman quickly withdrew from the store and the blue glass bottle was put back in its hiding place.

Observing a puzzled expression on the face of an old patron of the store who had come in to get a cigar, the clerk said, "Iodine."

"What for?" asked the smoker.

"Prevents the fingers from getting sore," replied the clerk. "She is from the musical conservatory, where she practices on the piano three or four hours a day. In order to prevent the finger nails from coming in contact with the ivory keys she has them cut very short, and we apply iodine to take the soreness out of the ends of the fingers after they have been subjected to three or four hours of pounding. Most piano players, you will observe, have their finger nails cut to the quick, so that no clicking sound is emitted when they strike the keys. We keep a bottle of iodine and a brush for the special use of the pianoforte pupils of the conservatory. They come in here for treatment two or three times a week and pay by the month."—New York Times.

The Mixed Menu.

The traveling men in eastern Maine have added a new story to their repertory, a Hancock county man being the subject. During the musical festival at Bangor, they say, John stepped into a Bangor hotel for dinner. Now it happened that the hotel man had leased the off side of his bill of fare to a local carriage manufacturer, who placed an "ad." thereon, with illustrations. John sat at the table. The waiter, being in something of a hurry, by mistake passed the bill wrong side out. John saw the wheels, put on his spectacles, curled his mustache with his left hand, straightened up, looked at the girl and said: 'I'll take scrambled eggs, a Bangor buggy, a couple of punts and a road cart. Got any wheelbarrows?' The girl flew.—Lewiston Journal.

The Good Die Young.

One Neighbor—Don't you ever have any fears that you won't be able to raise that boy of yours?

Second Neighbor—To tell you the truth, I do. "The good die young," you know.

"I wasn't thinking of that. I was wondering if you had no fears that some maddened man would brain him with an ax for blowing that tin horn all day long."—Indianapolis Journal.

Wildcats are extremely variable in size, some kinds being no more than two feet in length, while others are five. The smallest varieties of wildcats are about the size of the domestic variety.

The London Chronicle says that the baked banana is the ideal food for nervous and anæmic brain workers.

A NEW BUNCO GAME.

Its Merits Were Tested in Chicago on a Celery Grower.

San Francisco, Jan. 10.—Henry Winter, of Santa Ana, one of the largest celery growers in the State, has just returned from Chicago, where he was the victim of one of the cleverest bunco schemes yet heard of. He was sent East by celery growers to advance their interests, and took $200 for expenses. He was probably sized up on the train, for when he stepped off at Chicago he was met by three men, who told him to consider himself under arrest for counterfeiting. He told them who he was and declared there must be a mistake.

"Now, don't try to fool us," was the only answer. "We are United States officers." They threw back the lapels of their coats and showed glittering stars. "We know you to be the most dangerous counterfeiter in the country, and further, we know that right now you have on your person quite a sum of counterfeit money."

Winter at once protested that he had no spurious money, and to prove his assertion, produced his roll of bills and told the men to look the money over and see if it was not genuine. They inspected the bills and told Winter they were dangerous counterfeits and he would have to go with them to the police headquarters. Without a thought of his money he accompanied one of the men, who, in the crowd, suddenly disappeared. Then he knew for the first time that he had fallen among thieves. He complained to the police, but they laughed at him and called him a jay. He didn't tell of his loss until his return, when he told of his adventure in the dangerous streets of Chicago.

MONEY AND TROOPS FOR CUBA.

Spain Will Try Hard to Keep Her War Going.

Madrid, Jan. 10—A decree has been published authorizing a furthur issue of treasury bonds to the amount of 200,000,000 pesetas ($38,600,000), secured by the Spanish customs. The Bank of Spain will conduct the operations. The money thus raised will be used to meet the expenses of the war in Cuba. It will be handed over to the Cuban treasury, which will reimburse Spain at a time to be determined by the government.

Further reinforcements will sail for Cuba on January 20th, January 30th and February 10th.

The troops will comprise 6,000 infantry, 700 cavalry and a regiment of engineers.

YELLOW FEVER SERUM.

Three packages of yellow fever serum from Dr. J. Sanarelli of the Institut de Hygiene Experimentale at Montevideo arrived yesterday on the Norton line steamship Miramar, from South American ports. Two of the packages are for Dr. Wyman, of the United States Marine Hospital service at Washington, and the other is for Health Officer Doty, and will be used in experiments made by Dr. Doty's assistant, Dr. C. B. Fitzpatrick, at the laboratory at Quarantine.—New York Sun.

Shot in the Face.

A Wadesboro special to the Charlotte Observer says:

R. A. Carter, who, it will be remembered, got into a difficulty with Frank Wheeler, and while engaged, emptied his shot gun into Wheeler's shoulder and breast, was attacked by some unknown party Saturday night while on his way home.

The party or parties were in ambush the home of Carter and as he rode by was shot with a load from a shot gun, which took effect in the left side of his face, neck and head. The wound is a serious one.

COLD WATER CURED THEM.

Unruly Prisoners Brought to Terms by a Stream of Water.

Auburn, Me., Jan. 10.—The jail in this city has recently attracted attention on account of the escapes of prisoners, which followed each other in rapid succession. Most of the escaped prisoners were captured, and the ringleaders organized a plan to create nightly disturbances. The unruly prisoners kept every one in and about the jail awake.

Last night about 9 o'clock they began an unearthly noise. Sheriff Hill was prepared for them, and at a signal one of the cell doors was opened and a stream of cold water from a hose which was attached to the city hydrant was turned upon the four inmates. The nozzle was directed by firemen. In less than two minutes the men cried for mercy and promised to make no further disturbance. Four other cells were visited, and nine prisoners in all were treated to the ice-cold "soaking" treatment. All the prisoners begged for mercy and promised better behavior.

GRAND LODGE OF MASONS.

In Session at Oxford and the Showing It Makes.

The Secretary's report to the Grand Lodge will show 218 lodges now in the State, with a total membership of 11,500. This is a gain during 1897 of 8 new lodges and 400 new members.

The treasurer's report will show that during the year nearly $5,000 has been collected from all sources. The expenditures have been about $6,000.

The Grand Lodge will meet in the hall of the Orphan Asylum, which institution is the property of the Masons of North Carolina, and is worth about $75,000. There are now 221 orphans in the asylum. This great charity is not confined to the children of Masons alone, but to orphan children of the State generaly.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Fabius H. Busbee, Esq., of Raleigh, was in the city last night.

John Thomas is confined to his home by chicken-pox, we regret to state.

Greensboro wants more manufacturing enterprises, and must have them.

A beautiful comic drama, "A Scrap of Paper," at the Academy Thursday night.

Read the ad of The Peoples' Five Cents Savings Bank, and note increased deposits.

There was a very enjoyable sociable given at Miss Ada Thomas' home last night on East Market street.

Read The Telegram's suggestion about a park in another column and express your opinion about it.

It is a nuisance to have to black shoes. Shrier tells you in his ad today how to avoid the necessity of doing so.

Don't forget the refined and entertaining play, "A Scrap of Paper," at the Academy on Thursday night. Reserved seats on sale at Gardner's Drug Store.

Something more is said today about that embroidery sale at the store of J. M. Hendrix. He announces a special sale of corsets, also. Read his advertisement.

Adjutant General Cowles was here today. Col. Cowles did not say why he failed to take the Governor of North Carolina down to Col. Newnan's Georgia 'possum supper.

The work of putting rock in the low and muddy place in the road just this side of the water works pumping station is a much needed improvement, and when completed will be a great help to people who wish to drive out that way. The street force is now at work there.

What is really the most complete calendar we have seen, has been given us by Vuncanon & Co. It contains weather forecasts for every day in the year, the state of weather being indicated by flags. Of course allowances must be made for local changes. And we might add that Vuncanon keeps something good to eat for every day in the year, and you can make your own allowances as to the quantity to be consumed.

Mrs. M. L. Noah died at Burlington Sunday night, and the remains were carried through to Liberty today for interment at Melanchthon Lutheran church, of which she was a member. The church is about four miles from Liberty. Mrs. Noah was a daughter of Mr. A. B. York, of Melanchthon, and a sister of Mr. J. L. York, of this city. The remains were accompanied by the bereaved husband and joined here by Mr. J. L. York.

Dr. J. L. M. Curry, of Washington, D. C., spent yesterday here the guest of Dr. Chas. D. McIver, of the Normal, leaving for Winston last night. Dr. Curry is a man of unusual culture both intellectually and socially. He was United States minister to Spain under Cleveland's first administration. He is now on a tour of inspection of those schools that are the recipients of the fund left by the great philanthropist George Peabody.

Supervisor I. N. Smith, of the Southern, came near shooting his cook last night. She had been out somewhere and Mr. Smith had just retired when he heard the door latch click. His first thought was of burglars, and seizing a pistol went to the door, threw it open and was about to fire when the cook jumped back and screamed, "Don't shoot!" It was a narrow escape and should be a warning to servants not to try to enter houses without making themselves known.

BOARD OF VISITORS MEET.

All Pleased with the Excellent Showing of the Astley-Cooper Hospital.

The board of Lady Visitors of the Astley-Cooper Hospital met to inspect that institution yesterday afternoon from four to six o'clock. Without exception they were pleased with the showing the hospital has made in the proper care and treatment of the sick and with the condition it is in at present.

Although the hospital has been running only a few months there have been more than a dozen resident patients cared for and restored to health under its excellent management and a number of serious and difficult operations have been performed.

The idea is more or less prevalent that a hospital is a place to which one goes to be sick but undoubtedly those who inspected the Astley-Cooper hospital yesterday reached the true conclusion that a hospital is a place to which one goes to get well.

This particular time was selected for inspection by the board because there is now only one patient in the hospital and consequently the whole building could be inspected. From floor to roof the building was found to be as bright and fresh as a new pin—a testimonial to the excellence of the management. The first floor is taken up with the reception, bath, matron's room and one room for patients, while the second floor has the operating room and two rooms for patients, each arranged to accommodate two patients.

Refreshments were served before the board of managers inspected the building.

The matron in charge of the hospital is Mrs. Margaret M. Berry, who is a graduate of the Maryland Training School for Nurses and who had several years experience in hospital management before coming here. Dr. William H. Brooks is physician in charge though other physicians can place patients in the hospital.

The following ladies compose the Board of Managers:

Mrs. John Gray Bynum, Mrs. Ceasar Cone, Mrs. Robert P. Dick, Mrs. C. H. Dorsett, Mrs. Robert M. Douglas, Mrs. Neil Ellington, Mrs. John A. Gilmer, Mrs. M. E. Howard, Mrs. J. W. Lindau, Mrs. Reuben Lindheim, Mrs. E. J. Lynch, Mrs. Harry C. Martin, Mrs. J. C. Murchison, Mrs. J. A. Odell, Mrs. George M. O'Brien, Mrs. Dred Peacock, Mrs. E. F. Reinicker, Mrs. Annette L. Wright, Mrs. B. Frank Mebane.

The hospital has come to be recognized as being as much a necessity of a community as a postoffice and Greensboro is to be congratulated on having one so well equipped and managed.

Superior Court Grind.

It is grinding away, but this civil court business is slow and tedious and since yesterday the grist has not amounted to very much. The verdict of the jury in the case of Lewis vs. Moore and McKenzie was $15.00 damages.

In the case of Sibley, Lindsay & Kerr vs. E. L. Gilmer, there was judgment for the defendant and against the plaintiffs. Appealed to Supreme court.

The case of A. H. Motley et. als. vs. Southern Finishing and Warehouse Co., is being tried today and is expected to last well into the day tomorrow. The ground is being contested by Messrs. Shaw & Scales and Bynum, Bynum & Taylor for the plaintiffs and by Messrs. R. R. King and Chas. M. Steadman for defendants.

An Important Case.

The most important case tried and decided at this term of court was the case of Hendren, guardian, vs. the First National bank of Winston; E. H. C. Field and J. W. Alspaugh, in which the plaintiff recovered a judgment for about $2,200, and the foreclosure of a mortgage on the land of E. H. C. Field, near High Point.

This case was hotly contested by both sides and grew out of some dealings between the bank and Colonel Alspaugh.

The plaintiff was represented by John A. Barringer and L. M. Scott, and the defendants by E. B. Jones, J. C. Buxton, C. M. Stedman, John N. Staples and R. R. King.

Mrs. Sarah Clapp Dead.

Mrs. Sara Wills Clapp, aged 77 years, died yesterday at 2:45 p. m., at the home of B. F. Barefoot, on Asheboro street, of something like the grip. She was not thought to be seriously ill, and was sitting up in the forenoon yesterday.

She was the grandmother of Mrs. Barefoot, with whom she had lived for several years. Her only living child is Mrs. John H. Carroll, of Shelbyville, Tenn.

The funeral services will be conducted at the home tomorrow at 2 p. m. by Rev. T. M. Johnson, pastor of Grace M. P. church, and the interment made in the old Methodist cemetery.
